LONDON, Nov. 15.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Sarah Galley, Captain James Lander, in Quedah-Road, in East-India, dated Nov. 16, 1741.

'ACCORDING to my Promiſe I have ſent you the underwritten, as the moſt material News I have to inform you of. In every Port we touch at we hear of nothing but Wars and Rumours of Wars, both by Land and Sea. The Dutch, who by their Cruelties have made every Body in this part of the World their Enemies, have been play'd the Devil with by the Chineſe, who have almoſt drove them from Molacco and Batavia; and we ourſelves are not without Apprehenſions of a Skirmiſh with the Hogans, being bound to Perach to relieve and convoy ſome Veſſels belonging to the King of Quedah, which they have block'd up. The Gentooes have drove the Portugueze out of Goa and ſeveral other of their Settlements. The Eaſt-Indians, naturally cunning, treacherous and ambitious, are now grown very formidable alſo, ſince they have acquir'd a Notion of War; and on that Preſumption have made Attempts on ſeveral of our Settlements, eſpecially at Maddraſs; and as we have been told, have form'd a Deſign on Bengal. Thus, by ſupplying them with Guns, Powder and Ball, and learning them the Art of War; the Europeans have made a Scourge for their own Backs, which by and by, 'tis to be fear'd they'll feel too ſmartly. Angria's People, to our Misfortune, are ſtill very powerful, and have lately made Prizes of ſeveral Country trading Veſſels.

'In the Kingdom of Pegu, not far from Quedah, there has lately happen'd an extraordinary Revolution. The Bramins are a Sect of Indian Philoſophers that hold Tranſmigration of Souls from one Body into another, and are therefore very ſcrupulous of killing Animals, leſt they ſhould violate the Souls of their deceaſed Relations. By their publick Tenets they contemn Death, and place the Happineſs of this Life in deſpiſing the Gifts of Fortune. But, contrary to their Doctrine, we find them here graſping at Power and Wealth, rapacious in obtaining Riches, and oppreſſively tenacious in preſerving them. A Bramin had uſurp'd the Throne, and held the Reins with ſuch Severity that he would not allow the Natives to hold any Poſt under the Government, or to poſſeſs any Freehold in the Country; nay, with ſuch a high Hand did the Tyrant carry it, that they were not allow'd to exerciſe any Mechanick or Handicraft Trades, otherwiſe than as Journeymen or Slaves to the Bramins. Wearied at length with this Tyranny, the Peguers form'd a Deſign of ſhaking off the Yoke, and ſo compleatly executed their well-concerted Project, that in one Night's Time they roſe and put to Death all the Bramins, Men, Women and Children, to the Number of ſeveral Thouſands; ſo that the next Morning, when the Engliſh roſe, of whom there are many Families in the Capital, their Sights were glutted with the Streets running with Blood and Heaps of ſlaughter'd human dead Bodies piled one on another; a moſt ſhocking Spectacle! This Revenge may poſſibly be judged too cruel in Europe; tho' for a leſs Provocation, we have had moſt barbarous Maſſacres even there; but here in India 'tis juſtified and applauded; and we ourſelves cannot but commend the Motive to this Revolution as generous and brave; a glorious Reſolution of recovering their Rights and Priviledges, and delivering their Country from Tyranny and Slavery, and a foreign Yoke. They now have placed one of their native Princes on the Throne, and all Things are quiet in the Kingdom. I have nothing more ſignificant to add at preſent, &c.

have

NEW-YORK, February 14.

Extract of a Letter from Philadelphia, dated the 5th Inſtant.

Laſt Night came to Town young Mr. Livingſton, Son of Robert Livingſton of Albany; formerly by the Name of Gilbert Burnet; ſince by that of Rip Van Dam, jun. but his proper Name is found to be Tom Bell: He impoſed the Name of Livingſton on one Mathers of Cheſter, who I ſuppoſe had receiv'd ſome Favour from that Family, and this Bell appearing like a Gentleman, perſuaded Mathers to let him have two Horſes and a Man to bring him up here: He's now taking his ſecond Degrees in our College; from which Place he will ſoon have his Trial, and if he be found fit for the Pillory, doubtleſs he will receive his Ordination. He impoſed himſelf on the People of the Lower Countries for a Miniſter. I was preſent when he went before the Mayor; he there ſaid he was well acquainted with Books, skill'd in Law and Divinity, and believ'd no one could tell him any Thing he was not acquainted with before; he rejoic'd in his Sufferings, and hoped to clear himſelf from Aſperſions.

New-York, Febr. 21. Extract of a Letter from Lizbon, dated Jan. 15, 1743.

'As to Publick Affairs, War or Peace 'is yet uncertain; the Court Party are by 'much the Majority; the Addreſſes of 'both Houſes expreſs the utmoſt Confidence 'in his Majeſty, and Readineſs to aſſiſt 'him, ſo that every Thing goes ſmooth 'there: Our Troops in Flanders are ſaid 'to be marching into Lorrain; and it is 'ſaid, that 20,000 Ruſſians are upon the 'March to Germany, thro' Poland, where 'they are to be joined with the like Num-'ber of Poles: That the Imperialiſts un-'der Count Seckendorff have been beat by 'the Auſtrians, ſince they have again got 'into Bavaria. The Swedes have appoin-'ted for Succeſſor to that Crown the Duke 'of Holſtein-Gottorp; ſo Affairs are upon 'the Point of being made up between them 'and Ruſſia, by our Mediation, and a 'Match between him and one of our Prin-'ceſſes is talked of; but the Danes are ſo 'diſguſted at this Succeſſion, that they are 'arming. His Portugueze Majeſty's Illneſs 'continues, and it's thought that he cannot, 'humanly ſpeaking, hold it long.

PHILADELPHIA, Febr. 10.

Thurſday Night the notorious Tom [illegible] arrived in this City from Maryland; pretended to be a Son of Mr. Livingſton New-York, that he had been caſt-away taken, &c. But being ſuſpected, he was ſent for by the Mayor At firſt he decl himſelf to be Bell; but the Mayor happe ing to remember him, having ſome Yea ſince committed him to Suſſex Goal for Fo gery; he at length acknowledged himſ to be the Perſon, and was committed to Pri ſon for want of Security. He has it ſeem made it his Buſineſs for ſeveral Years t travel from Colony to Colony, perſonatin different People, forging Bills, Letters o Credit, &c. and frequently pretending Di ſtreſs, impoſed groſsly on the charitable and compaſſionate. He has been in every Colo-ny on the Continent, and in ſome Parts o the Weſt-Indies; knows and talks familia-ly of all Perſons of Note as if they were o his Acquaintance. In Barbados he was the Thomas Burnet that raiſed the Perſecution againſt the Jews. In the Jerſeys he was the Rowland, that occaſion'd ſo many Proſecu-tions, which ('tis ſaid) he now owns. In Virginia, Maryland, the Carolina's, New-York and New-England, he has been Fair-fax, Wentworth, &c. &c. &c. We hear a very exact Deſcription of his Perſon, &c. is intended to be publiſhed, and diſperſed thro' all the Plantations, to prevent future Impoſitions.

By a Veſſel from Barbados we hear, that two Men of War (one of 70 Guns) were ar-rived there from Port-Mahon with Troops, who were going to join the Squadron at Antigua.
